

Julie Andrews and Daniel Massey in "Red Peppers," a scene from Coward's "Tonight at 8:30."
BELOW, Julie Andrews sings "The Physician" from Cole Porter's "Nymph Errant."

Gertrude Lawrence (Julie Andrews) spends a summer on the French Riviera with her daughter (played by Jenny Agutter). BELOW: A contrasting photo is another personal snapshot of Miss Lawrence on the Riviera.

Sir Anthony Spencer (Michael Craig) visits Gertrude Lawrence (Julie Andrews) in New York during a costume party in her penthouse. Once again she rejects his offer of marriage, but this time she is plagued with self-doubt.

Gertrude Lawrence, S-T-A-R, always traveled in style, whether it was a transatlantic steamer or an elegant sports car. Photo from her own album.
OVERLEAF: The spectacular "Jenny" scene from "Lady in the Dark" by Kurt Weill and Ira Gershwin.

